Thurman May Not Be the Man.

to THURMAN. "We are moving to fast to stop and take up dead bodies," said Mr. Hyman, an Indiana democratic member of the house, who is one of Governor Gray's most ardent advocates, in discussing to-night the nomination of Thurman at the state convention. "I do not think Gray will be nominated," he continued, "and I may add that I do not believe Judge Thurman will be nominated. When the convention adjourned to-day it was a victory for the anti-Thurman men. All of the friends of Governor Gray in the convention are opposed to Thurman in the nomination. They have passed up the friends of Thurman who will gladly drop him and go to a new man whenever he is suggested. Gray's know-nothing record scared the party at large, and then the interference on the part of the administration sealed his defeat."

Then there will be some other man than Thurman, it was thought. But they thought into the convention to-morrow for the vice presidency? "Inquired, "Yes," replied the speaker. "I think that nian's feat will be worked in the caucus of the Gray men at St. Louis to-night. Then Indiana democrats will not sleep much during the night of the 10th. The next day Judge Thurman on personal grounds and the Indiana democrats are not opposed to him. The Gray men are not opposed to him. He is but a tradition. He would give no strength to the party anywhere. Then the Gray men will be asked to vote those who brought Thurman out to defeat them. They also intend to teach the administration that they are not to be trifled with by the Gray canvassers.

"Who do you think will be the new man to jump the issue?"

"Probably William R. Morrison of Illinois. Morrison is an ardent advocate of the nomination of Gray and naturally Gray's followers. He is a man of great energy and Illinois has been mentioned and he would be a strong man on the ticket. He is probably the best man in the North to be put on the ticket. He has done nothing to give him fame or prestige other than to dismiss by wholesale fourth party canvassers. Morrison has a national character."

Not a Boom Situation.

Catago, June 6.—[Special Telegram to The Hk.]—J. S. Clarkson, who has just returned from another trip to the east, during his absence he had acquired republican leaders and delegates their preference. He had learned among other things that Senator Hawley's name will be presented for the presidency from Connecticut and that the New York delegation will not support William W. Phelps. This intelligence, said Clarkson, "I received in one case from the chairman of the delegation and in the other eastern delegates had many conferences with those who had been deputed to various men proposed. The leading men of the New York delegation, however, were not in accord with this conclusion reached was a general one not to pledge themselves to any one, but rather an agreement to keep independent until the delegates from all quarters, and by seeking the level of opinion find and nominate the man best qualified to lead the party. This is the view of nearly all the eastern dele-

WAS IT A MURDER?
The Decree of the United States Matter of International Interest.

M. B. Jamieson, a brother of A. G. Jamieson, the young newspaper man who recently died after receiving injuries in a tussle with Officer Bloom, came clear from Australia to investigate the case. He is now fully armed with all the facts in the case and returned to the old country last evening to lay the case before the English government, which in turn will notify the English consul in New York City to investigate the matter and see if the case is proceeded with in England. This complicated action is necessary as the deceased was a citizen of England. The case is now being treated as a murder case.

M. B. Jamieson is thoroughly disgusted with what he deems the one-sided and partial treatment of the case. He is a native-born case, which was almost in direct contradiction to that of the other physicians in the state, Jamieson is desirous to work the case quietly, but some interesting developments have resulted which will be reported as they make their investigation of the affair.

Only Tuesday evening the same office of Bloom indicated an ugly cut on the head of a prisoner from the same party, and the police say that such brutality on the part of the police forces is unknown in England and held to be criminal.

A Claim Bake Calamity.

By an unfortunate delay on the part of the Burlington road, the train for the Shogun Island, near Milford, in this state, which was to have taken place last Friday was unavoidably postponed. The road did not deliver the claims until some of the members of the club had arrived on the ground with appetizing relishes, and the train was not even to a less promising feast. The management refused to accept the claims, the individuals who had participated in the banquet were ordered long before, and the road as a consequence was compelled to dispose of the train and it was not until the following day that a number of the claims coming to Ed.
